Headline:
Wet and windy, with frequent blustery showers, and sunny spells.

Today:
Another wet and windy day, with frequent heavy showers throughout, carrying a risk of hail. Sunny spells increase in number later in the day. Winds easing slightly from overnight, but conditions remain blustery with further coastal gales possible. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers ease through the evening to leave a largely dry night. It'll be chilly with some clear spells, but it should stay frost free for most. Winds weakening. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Sunday:
A largely dry start, with patchy cloud allowing for some sunny spells early on. Becoming cloudy later, with widespread rain and drizzle in the evening. Largely dry overnight, remaining windy. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Largely dry with patchy cloud Monday, with winds easing. Rain and drizzle Tuesday morning, but some sunshine later. Dry and bright Wednesday, with light winds, turning milder.
